HIT THE TRAILS

Start at the Old Smoke House, just a short walk from the hotel lobby. The building is a reminder of a simpler time and a good spot for snapshots. The trailhead is just ahead. All hikes start and end at the Bell Post at the center of Story Tellers' Circle (GPS: N 33° 47.827' and W 84° 07.832'). Long before cell phones, locals used bells to communicate in the mountains. Be sure to give it a ring before and after your adventure.

QUICK TIPS

- Wear comfortable shoes
- Use sun screen and bug spray
- Dress for changing weather (layers, rain gear, etc.)
- Have fun

TRAILS

THE BLUEBIRD (Beginner: 15-30 minutes) ●○○

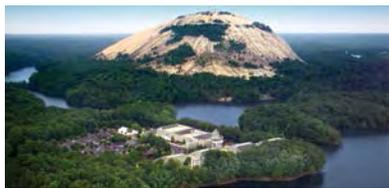

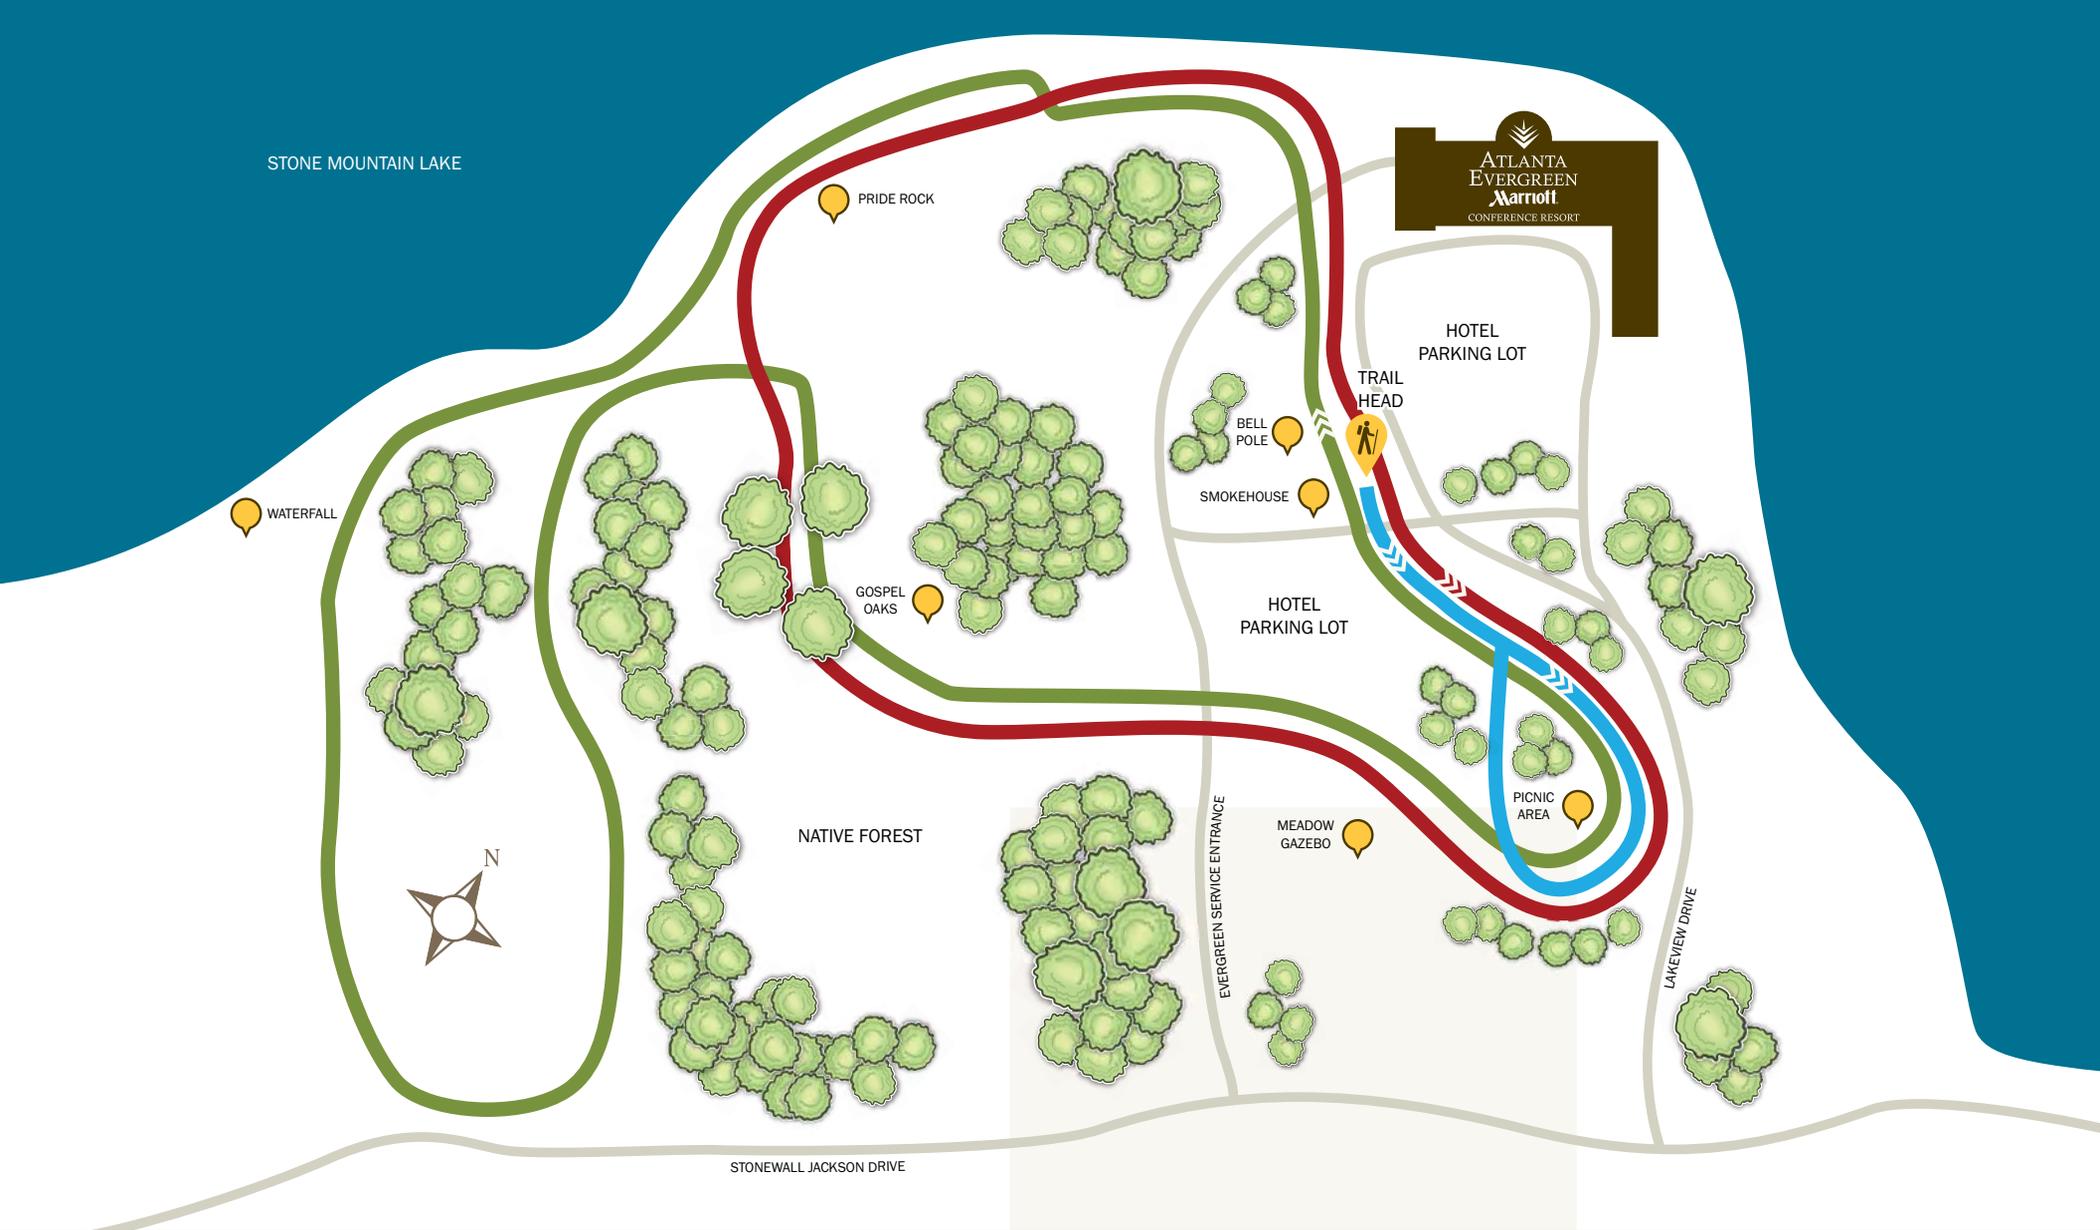

Marked by blue arrows, this hike is great for older guests or families with young children. Turn right at the 'moment of truth' sign and follow the wide path past balance beams, birdhouses and picnic tables. Look out for animal tracks in the game tracking area. Catch the views from Look Out Rock. Then loop back to the Bell Pole.

THE HAWK (Intermediate: 45 minutes) ●●○

Marked by red arrows, this trail begins by sharing the outward track with The Bluebird before turning at Look Out Rock. Over the hillside and through a meadow, it winds through native forest to the Gospel Oaks, Pride Rock and down to Stone Mountain Lake. More than a mile long, this walk is great for team building exercises.

THE HERON (Advanced: 1 hour) ●●●

Marked with green arrows the trail offers the best mix of true forest and tranquil scenery. The hike follows the other two to the 'moment of truth' sign then turns left over hikers drive and into old-growth woods. Follow an old game trail past seasonal wildflowers, stunning lake views, rapids and a peaceful waterfall. The Heron trail also connects to the Cherokee trail, giving hikers the chance to explore more of Stone Mountain Park. With many elevation changes and abundant wildlife this hike is both vigorous and rewarding.
