

The center of having it all.

Progress, not perfection – a common idea. Today, JW Marriott uncommonly achieves both, with the Pacific Conference Center. Simply by opening its doors, it has become the only hotel conference center in downtown San Francisco and a premier boutique meeting destination.

With its own private entrance, the option of coming and going as you please removes any unnecessary interaction or distraction. After all, the ultimate luxury in life is the time to think and the freedom to focus.

With ample space for up to 20 people, each environment is designed to host meetings of all kinds.

High-tech think tanks, brainstorming sessions, executive board meetings, depositions, war rooms and countless others will take the stage here. Where erase boards encompass entire walls and smart boards capture interactive genius, feel free to let imaginations run wild. There are no boundaries.

A rich tapestry of earth toned carpets and sound-absorbing rugs, ergonomically designed seating and tasteful wall elements create comfortable havens from which every guest can enjoy fine creature comforts.
