Princeton Marriott at Forrestal Eases Traveling for Working Mothers

Hotel unveils new mothers lounge in its meeting space and conference wing

Princeton, New Jersey – September, 11th, 2018 – Princeton Marriott at Forrestal is making travel easier for recent working moms with the reveal of their mother’s lounge in the conference wing at the hotel in Princeton, New Jersey. The recent addition to the hotel ensures that families, traveling mothers, working mothers, conference planners, wedding planners, brides and wedding guests have a comfortable space for breast pumping and feeding during events.

The hotel offers a private space accessed with a key obtained by the front desk and includes two breast pumping stations separated by a room divider. The space also includes a refrigerator available for storage. If a freezer is needed, guests can see the front desk for assistance. The lounge also offers assorted reading material, and is conveniently located near the hotel’s conference rooms in Princeton, New Jersey.

The space is designed to help mothers feel more comfortable when traveling for business while post-partum and offers complimentary bottled water and ample electrical outlets for charging laptops, phones and tablets. Its convenient location in the conference wing makes it easy for traveling moms to pump during business meetings or events.
